Founded by Mark Sears, CloudFactory is the Cloud Labor API for businesses to build apps powered by real people. It's a platform of self-service, generalized tools to offer advanced functionality that can be used across any crowdsourcing need or project.

The metaphor of your own factory in the clouds with virtual assembly lines is used to just things easier and save a lot of money and time in creating advanced crowdsourcing solutions.

A great way to unlock human potential, create employment and training opportunities for people in the developing world, CloudFactory provides jobs to people for digital companies who need human input.
